

Do we need to provide you with necessary copy/information if we wish to have you list the tour on your w

Written by Administrator

---

Yes, for liability purposes in the form of errors and omissions, all copy / information must be supplied by the client or customer. Likewise, prior to being published, the client or customer will be required to sign off on all copy / information or confirm in writing that all copy / information is accurate and final.